Groundsmen Seek Cure For Tree-Falling Craze

By FRED WALSTON

Is there a cure for the tree-falling epidemic plaguing the San Jose State campus?

According to Robert Alexander, Supervising Groundsman, the city is the final authority on that question, but his corps of groundsmen is doing what it can.

The big elms that have folded automobiles in the dormitory area in one, two, three order have not been known to be such habitual uprooters.

The history of San Jose State tree-falling has never recorded such a frenzy of activity.

Humanities Dean Speaks Tomorrow

Dr. Dudley T. Moorhead, dean of the division of humanities and arts, will speak tomorrow at 11:30 a.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium.

Dean Moorhead's topic is "Knowledge is Not Enough," a discussion of general education.

The address is the fifth in the college lecture series, sponsored by the lecture committee whose chairman is Dr. Frank Willey, coordinator of extension services.

The speaker joined the faculty in 1946, after obtaining a B.A. from SJS, and an M.A. and Ph.D. from Stanford. He was an assistant professor of history until 1951 when he became an associate. In 1954 he was elevated to full professor.

Dean Moorhead acquired his current position in 1957.

He spent the war years, 1942-45, in the U.S. Army air corps, rising from private to captain.

Dean Moorhead began teaching in 1936 at Salinas high school. He also taught in San Luis Obispo schools, including the junior college.

Spurs Ask Food, Toy Donations To Bring Christmas Cheer to Needy

By PETE KUEHL

"Yes, Virginia, there IS a Santa Claus," assured a New York Times editorial some years ago.

And indeed, to this little girl whose letter became a national affirmation of a faith, there was a grand and generous Santa.

Never Land Revisited This Week

It has only been in the most fierce storms in the past years that any timber has come tumbling down and then it usually was only a limb or two.

PRUNING . . . CUTTING

"We have tried to keep the trees under control by pruning," Mr. Alexander reported, "and we have cut down those we felt were in danger of falling."

In fact groundsmen have chopped down no less than seven trees that threatened life and limb in the dormitory area this year, two of which were neighbors to the recent uprooters.

"Although the city is responsible for the falling trees, we are trying to spot the threatening ones to avoid any further damages," Buildings and Grounds head John Amos said.

His department has been warned of three more precarious-looking trees on Eighth st. (evacuate!) that may have to come under the axe.

PROBABLE CAUSE

"Sidewalk construction, ditch digging and the resulting loosened soil is probably responsible for the fallen trees in the last storm," Mr. Alexander averred.

"We found roots had been cut on the first tree that fell," he continued, "so groundsmen have been keeping a closer watch on ditches that may undermine any more trees."

Sleep tight dormpeople.

Dance Scheduled

Royce and Allen Hall students will hold a Christmas Charity dance entitled "Mistletoe Magic" Friday in the Womens' gym.

Attire for the dance is dressy dress. Refreshments will be served and music will be provided by the Hilliers band.

Admission is 50 cents stag, 75 cents couples. All proceeds will go to needy families.

Never Land Revisited This Week

Never Land will be revisited this week as the SJS Speech and Drama department completes its run of "Peter Pan" tonight, tomorrow, Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in the College Theater.

A matinee performance also will be presented Saturday at 2 p.m.

A limited number of tickets are on sale at the College Theater box office which is open through Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. Tickets are 50 cents for SJS students and children under 12 and $1 for all others.

In the SJS revival, Richard Parks as Peter Pan glides across the stage in a live and flippant manner characteristic of the boy who wouldn't grow up.

Playing the dual role of Captain Hook and Mr. Darling in James M. Barrie's fantasy is Jerry DeBono. DeBono is fiendishly clever in his portrayal of the wicked Hook.

Also noteworthy are Susan Evers as Wendy, Sandra Emery as Michael and Gay Lewis as Nana, the Darling dog.

Engineering Major Dies in Palo Alto

Ernest K. Mitsunaga, 23-year-old mechanical engineering major, died Sunday in a Palo Alto hospital.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy T. Mitsunaga, 1059 Grape ave., Sunnyvale.

According to his sister, Edith, Mitsunaga's fatal illness was discovered shortly before he was to register for the fall semester. He was a senior and would have completed his graduation requirements this semester.

Services will be held tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Buddhist temple, Fifth and Jackson sts., in San Jose.

SHE LIKES LYKE

DANCING DOLL?—Luscious Lynn Walker does a fancy step or two in anticipation of the new issue of Lyke, campus feature magazine, which is on sale today for 35 cents. The way the pert freshman is smiling, someone must have just told her she's Lyke's Doll—a lively Christmas present to male Spartans.

Coeds, Features Fill Lyke's Winter Issue

The winter issue of Lyke magazine—featuring a look at the dorm controversy and an interview with comedian Buster Keaton—went on sale this morning at five campus locations.

Only 3500 copies of the campus feature magazine were printed. The last issue sold out before 2 p.m., so Editor John Hopkins is urging students to buy their copies early. Price is 35 cents.

Lyke staffers are anticipating the demand for copies by operating a system of walkie-talkies to let supply chiefs know when more magazines are needed at the sales stands.

STAND LOCATIONS

Stands are located at the cafeteria, book store, Library, Men's gym and Women's gym.

Writer Robert Taylor uncovers the problems created by the new dorms in the featured article. English professor Dr. Dorothy Foote debates paperback novelist Connie Sellers in a "pro and con" feature on writing.

Keaton, the deadpan comic of the silent screen, is interviewed in a special section of the magazine which also includes a movie serial starring Lolelei Terri Hall and Peggy Wood.

Editor Hopkins offers his first fiction piece, "Christmas Eve in the City," and Ron Miller has written "The Powder Man" for the latest issue.

KILGALLEN 'SPYKED'

Columnist Dorothy Kilgallen receives the not-so-coveted Lyke Spyke for her contributions to the American scene. Previous "winners" were Jack Paar and The Kingston Trio.

Humor fans are treated to "TV Chide" by Jerry Nachman, Spar-tans by Paul Merta, Pilfered Pies and a nostalgic look at the funny-book heroes of the past in Ron Miller's "Requiem for the Comics."

IKE AND KENNEDY MEET FOR THREE HOURS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pres. Eisenhower and Pres.-elect John F. Kennedy held a "cordial" three-hour meeting yesterday and joined in pledging that the United States will continue "to seek peace with justice in freedom for all peoples."

Kennedy disclosed that Eisenhower assured him he would be glad to be of "future service to the country" if asked to serve in the new administration.

POLICE BREAK BLOCKADE

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Scores of police, out to "prevent further disturbances," broke a white blockade around an integrated elementary school yesterday and attendance jumped to 23 white students and a Negro girl.

A total of 91 police, many of them arriving in a chartered bus, set up blockades of their own and held the angry housewives leading the blockade a block away from William Frantz school.

The women's screams and jeers were barely audible at the school when parents began bringing their children in. All they could do was throw a couple of eggs at a newsman's car.

'CHINA WILL BE ATOMIC POWER'—BRITAIN

LONDON (UPI)—British experts were reported yesterday to have warned the government that Red China can be expected to become a nuclear power in its own right "very soon"—possibly next year.

No details were available to substantiate the warning, but the suggestion of Peiping's advance in the nuclear weapons field was believed to have played at least some part in the Soviet Union's anxiety to get world communism lined up behind its policy of "peaceful coexistence."

Book Talk Today

Dr. Louis J. Peterson, associate professor of health and hygiene, will review "The Mirage of Health," by Rene Dubos, in Cafeteria rooms A and B today at 12:30 p.m.

Cafeteria Talk

SJ Attorney Defends HCAU; Audience Split

San Jose attorney Garvin W. Hale discussed "The House Committee on Un-American Activities—an American View," yesterday to a large audience that voiced sharply divided opinion on the topic.

Mr. Hale, speaking in cafeteria rooms A and B, said world communism is expending a great effort to assume leadership in educational institutions in the United States.

He described HCAU as a fact-finding committee organized to combat this conspiracy along with other government organizations.

INVESTIGATE AND REPORT

Purpose of the committee is to investigate un-American activities and report to the house of representatives the results and make recommendations for legislation, said the University of Santa Clara law school graduate.

During a question and answer session following Attorney Hale's speech, student and faculty members of the audience presented widely contrasting statements and remarks on the merit and purpose of HCAU.

In reply to one question concerning his remarks about a campus political organization, Mr. Hale said he didn't maintain that everybody against HCAU is a communist but that "everybody who is un-American is against the committee."

In conjunction with Mr. Hale's talk, sponsored by Gavel and Rostrom, a film was shown called "Communism on the Map."

U.S. BLUNDERS

The film attempts to show that blunders by the U.S. State department in the 30's and 40's let communism spread and flourish.

"Operation Abolition," a documentary film showing scenes of the alleged "riots" at the meeting of the HCAU last May in San Francisco, was originally scheduled to be shown, but was delayed.

"Communism on the Map," was arranged by Harding college in Arkansas.

John Gustafson, president of Gavel and Rostrom, said "Operation Abolition," would be shown at a later date.

'Rare Work of Art'—Henry V Film—Shown Twice Today

"The movies have produced one of their rare great works of art," said Time magazine.

The object of their praise was Laurence Olivier's creation of Shakespeare's "Henry V," scheduled for two showings today.

Robert Orem, associate professor of English and coordinator of the classic film program, said the colorful account of England's 15th century foray into France will run 3:30 p.m. in S142, and 7 p.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium.

The battle scenes, which show heavily-armored French knights fighting quick-footed, lightly-garbed English archers, were shot in Ireland.

America Pauses Today To Recall Pearl Harbor

The American populace awoke today with a tear in its eye. For today is the anniversary and grim reminder that 19 years ago the United States suffered one of the greatest tragedies the world has ever seen.

Dec. 7, 1941 — The day that the bombs came down.

It began as another beautiful day in Hawaii, expected to be filled with fun and pleasure Hawaiian style, but as the sun began to rise, the sky filled with the loudening hum of the approaching Japanese air force.

Tons of bombs went screaming to the earth with deadly aim. The interim period of silence between the violent blasts was soon shattered with the roar and cracking of rockets and machine gun fire.

The American Navy, Air Force and Army units had been taken by surprise, and only a seriously weakened counter-attack was able to save them from annihilation.

The American populace had good reason to awaken with a tear in its eye today. And as memorial services are held at noon, in Hawaii by the sunken battleship Arizona, the American populace should observe a moment of silence for the 15,000 plus men who lost their lives at Pearl.

Palo Alto Physician To Talk at Dinner

"Freud, Hitler and Pestalozzi" is the title of a speech by Dr. James A. Paulsen, chief of physical medical services, veterans hospital, Palo Alto, at the Epsilon Pi Tau initiation and banquet Saturday at 7 p.m. in the SJS cafeteria.

The dinner and speech is open to all interested students and faculty, said Karl C. Schulz, president. Reservations and a donation of $2.75 per person for the prime rib dinner should be made by 5 p.m. today in the industrial arts office.

Water Safety Club Meets in MG201

George Haines, the U.S. Women's Olympic swimming coach, will speak at a meeting of the Water Safety Instructors club tonight at 7:30 p.m. in MG201, according to Tom O'Neill, Spartan swimming coach and chairman of the club's water safety committee.

All water safety instructors in the San Jose area are urged to attend. A short election meeting will follow Haines' talk on the 1960 Olympic Games.

Quarterback, End Selected

Raiders Draft Two San Jose Gridders

By GARY PALMER
Spartan senior footballers Mike Jones and Claire Appledorn were selected by the Oakland Raiders yesterday in the AFL player draft in Dallas, Tex.

Jones, who engineered San Jose touchdown drives from his quarterback spot all year long, was the Raiders' 21st round choice, while Appledorn, an end, was their 27th choice.

The pair was picked before such other college standouts as Mike McKeever of USC, Skip Face of Stanford and Dove Grosz of Oregon, all late round choices.

Jack Gallagher, Oakland's public relations director, said the decision to draft the SJS seniors was a joint agreement by several members of the Raider staff.

Chief scout Wes Fry consulted with Marty Feldman, former San Jose State line coach, now with the Raiders, who no doubt had some influence on the decision.

Eddie Erdelatz, coach of the AFL entry, sat in on the Stanford-San Jose game earlier this year and was highly impressed with Jones, the Spartans 6-11 1/2 senior signal-caller.

Gallagher could not say what prompted the draft of Appledorn, but indicated that the Oakland brass must have thought highly of his pass-catching talents to pick him from the large number of draftees available.

Jones, who was plagued by injuries in 1959, was a standout on the '58 Spartan eleven, as well as on this year's squad. He suffered a broken arm in the '59 opener against Denver, however, and was sidelined for the season.

The injury jinx continued to plague him in spring drills last year, when he broke a bone in his hand. He recovered and capped a fine senior year with a pair of touchdown tosses against Hawaii last week-end.

Appledorn, whose hometown is Dickinson, N.D., has been on the other end of a number of Jones' aeriels this year, and in '59, he held down a first string end berth along with Jim Cadlie.

It was not known whether or not the pair intended to play pro ball, but a teammate disclosed that Jones indicated he would like to give it a try.

SJ Water Poloists Honor Christensen
Lonnie Christensen, captain of the 1960 San Jose State water polo team, was named the club's most valuable player at the team's awards banquet at the De Anza hotel Friday night.

Sophomore Jim Monsees was elected captain of the 1961 team and received a trophy for being one of the most improved players.

Ross Berry was named the other most improved player on Art Lambert's 1960 team and was also awarded a trophy.

Christensen and Monsees were given trophies for being on the all-tournament first team at the recent state college water polo championships.

Among the banquet guests were Dr. Charles Walker, former SJS water polo coach, and Tom O'Neill, current Spartan swim coach.

Cal Poly Grid Tilts Cancelled in '61-62
Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo, involved in the tragic football accident of Oct. 29, has been granted permission by SJS to drop two Spartan-Mustang grid contests scheduled for 1961 and 1962.

According to Art Johnson, SJS athletic publicity director, Cal Poly will "undoubtedly continue football next year, but on a freshman and sophomore basis."

Mustang officials feel that competition offered by SJS "would be too tough for the next two years."

The postponement involves a Sept. 23, 1961 game here at Spartan Stadium and an Oct. 27, 1962 contest at San Luis Obispo.

Johnson added, however, that "scheduled engagements in 1964 and 1965 were not cancelled."

Entries Due For Mat Meet
Entries for San Jose State's fourth annual Northern California Intercollegiate Wrestling tournament Saturday in Spartan gym are due in the wrestling office by Thursday evening, according to coach Hugh Mumby, in charge of the tourney.

All amateur wrestlers, carrying 12 or more units, are encouraged by Mumby to enter.

There is a $1.00 entry fee, payable before Saturday noon—the starting time of the tournament.

Colleges will enter any number of men in each of the eight divisions, but only one man can compete for team score in a division.

Trophies will go to the top team and individual weight class winners, while plaques will be awarded to second and third place finishers.

Rules governing the tournament will come from the 1960-61 NCAA handbook, with the only change slated in the length of the matches.

Three two-minute rounds will be wrestled, rather than the customary three rounds of three minutes in length.

Weigh-in is slated for 10 a.m. Saturday in the gym—G.P.

SJS Sparkles in Defeat

Inspired Cagers Drop 43-39 Thriller to Cal

By NICK PETERS
BERKELEY—A game Spartan basketball team competed in Harmon Gym last night and played its heart out in giving the favored Bears a major headache before bowing 43-39, as NC-AA-finalist California staged another of its patented second-half comebacks to erase a 27-22 SJS halftime lead.

Coach Stu Inman's charges couldn't have looked better in defeat. They matched their more experienced opponents basket-for basket until Cal's All-American candidate Bill McClintock netted two consecutive field goals with seven minutes to go, giving his mates a 37-33 lead they never relinquished.

In a dramatic first half that saw the lead change hands 12 times, the Spartans prevailed on the strength of an 8-for-13 spree from the floor and an 11-for-12 mark from the charity stripe.

The final stanza found the hustling young Spartans go awry in their floor shooting, hitting only 5-of-19, and that was the story.

Inman was quite satisfied with the team effort despite the defeat. "They were terrific," he exclaimed. "I'm more than pleased with our performance. Here we had a group of young fellows who have just been introduced to our ball-control style of play, and they play a group of seniors who have been in the system for three years, yet practically come through on even terms."

Not wanting to point out one player above the rest, Inman praised them all, but admitted that "Bates (Dennis) played an excellent ball game because he drew McClintock and held him to just 11 points while scoring seven himself."

McClintock deadlocked Dave Stafford for high point honors with 11, while center Joe Braun and Ryan topped the Spartans with nine apiece. Cal's Stan Morrison led the rebounders with nine, but the locals just fell one short in team totals—28 to 29.

BearCubs Dump Frosh

BERKELEY—A strong Cal Bear Cub five led by 5-11 guard Denny Lewis handed coach Danny Glines frosh cagers their first setback of the infant basketball season last night 49-33.

Lewis tallied 14 points as did San Jose's Bob Nye from his forward spot, but the Berkeley yearlings jumped to a 22-16 halftime lead and were never headed.

Mel Simpson notched 11 points from the other forward spot for the Spartans but 6-8 center Harry Edwards was unable to find the range, finishing the evening with two points, both from the foul line.

Center Bob Wuespe also reached double figures, dumping in 13 points for the Berkeley cause.

Nixon May Address April SJS Convention

There is a "good chance" Richard Nixon will give the keynote address at the annual Western Regional Inter-Fraternity convention to be hosted by San Jose State, April 12-15, reported Bob Wright, convention president.

More than 150 delegates representing 93 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada will attend the conclave.

Shouldering responsibility for the four-day affair, the San Jose State IFC has lined up several prominent local educators and businessmen to speak to the convention.

'PROGRESS' THEME

"W.R.I.F.C.—The Outposts of Progress," is the theme chosen for this year. The convention will conduct group discussions on IFC problems and how to combat them.

Assisting president Bob Wright

Applications Open

Applications for 1961 Freshman camp director are available in the College Union, 315 S. Ninth st., until 12 p.m. Friday, said Don Dunton, 1960 director.

Interviews will be conducted Friday in the College Union from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Preference will be given to those who have attended the camp as counselors and committee members, Dunton said.

on the convention committee will be Gary Levi, secretary; Phi Meserve, treasurer; Gene Larrigan, program; Bill Nelson, arrangements; Chuck Allard, transportation; and Bob Liljenwall, publicity and social.

AREA REPRESENTATIVE

A northern and southern area representative from the University of Washington and West Texas state college, respectively will also assist Wright.

Convention headquarters will be at The Lamplighter, located on El Camino Real.

Voting set For 'Ugliest'

A thing of ugliness is a sorrow forever and the sorriest contest of all comes to a conclusion today and tomorrow when students vote for a winner of the sophomore sponsored ugly man contest.

Penny balloting will be in front of the cafeteria and bookstore, announced Lee Cox, president of the sophomore class.

Trophies and awards will be given out at the frosh-soph mixer Jan. 7 in the women's gym from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Cox said there was no truth to the rumor that the first prize would be plastic surgery.

Twelve students, sponsored by various living groups, entered the contest before the deadline but additional entrants may be announced tomorrow, Cox said.

CHURCH MERGER PROPOSED

DISCUSSING MERGER—Rev. James A. Pike (right), Episcopal Bishop of California, and Rev. Dr. Eugene C. Blake, chief executive officer of United Presbyterian Church, discuss a proposal for the merger of four of the nation's largest Protestant denominations: United Presbyterians, Protestant Episcopal, Methodist and the United Church of Christ. Other churches would be invited to join, they said.

Orientation Reps

Applications are now being taken for spring semester orientation week representatives-at-large. Interested students may apply at the College Union, 315 S. Ninth st., between 2:30 and 5 p.m. Friday, for an interview date.

Panel To Choose Model U.N. Reps

San Jose State's delegation to the Model United Nations next spring meeting will be chosen tomorrow and Friday by a four-man panel, Manuel Oliverez, a member of the SJS troupe last year and co-chairman this year, has announced.

The panel, consisting of delegation co-chairmen Sam Obregon and Oliverez, graduate student Stanley Stevens and Dr. Raymond F. Stanley, associate professor of geography, will meet tomorrow in CH-161 and Friday in CH135 at 3:30 p.m. to make the selections.

"More than 40 students inquired about the Model U.N.," Oliverez said, "but only 18 of them actually returned applications for the membership."

Thirteen students will be chosen from the list.

Colleges and universities from the western section of the United States will represent 92 countries with SJS taking over the affairs of Belgium for the mock U.N. meeting.

Pre-Advisement Studied In Experimental Program

Four departments are taking part in a special experimental program of pre-advisement for their department majors, according to the office of student personnel.

Biological Science, Elementary Education, Men's Physical Education, and Speech and Drama departments are participating in the program in preparation for next semester. The program was initiated by the faculty committee on academic advisement, which headed by Robert Martin, associate dean of students.

If this experiment is successful it could lead to college wide registration which would virtually assure students of admission classes in their major department. The Engineering division and Industrial Arts department already established a pre-advisement.

Students in the department taking part in the program have been advised to watch departmental bulletin boards for the date of the pre-advising period.

Folksingers, Movies At Co-Rec Tonight

A folksinger trio and winter sports films will add to the atmosphere of "Fireside Shuffle 'n Sing," tonight's Co-rec theme, according to Jerry Reese, publicity chairman.

Films shown in WGS will be: "Preview of Olympic Games," "Skating Fantasy" and "Ski Thrills."

Activity begins at 7:30 p.m. in Women's gym. Dress is casual.
